

You are invited share a message International Women in Engineering Day

Need inspiration?

a celebration of a woman engineer a fellow student or friend, a researcher, a historical figure, a contemporary a thank you to anyone who inspired you from outside engineering a message of support from a family member a wish for the future words of encouragement for young women considering subjects at school or university

This year's International Women in Engineering Day was organised by Dr Ferheen Ayaz, research fellow and School EDI/AS member

The theme for this year is 'Women in Engineering: Inspiring Future Engineers'. Submissions can be emailed in to eng.enq@nottingham.ac.uk or communicated via social media.
